

Artist: Allison Zito

Title: Hidden Treasures in Plain Sight #1, from the Hidden Treasures Series

Bees and really all insects are essential players in the web of life. While many people consider these tiny animals to be a nuisance, our lives and our planet would be rather bleak without their important contributions. I hope my artwork will encourage people to rethink their approach, when it comes to these precious natural resources we all rely upon.