

Richard DeMarle

Bio:

Dick, originally from Syracuse, New York attended Cornell University and Stanford University. After a career in manufacturing he retired in 2005. Dick and his wife relocated to Vermont in 2009 where he resumed his interest in watercolors. In recent years he has expanded his repertoire to include acrylic painting. He has taken numerous courses through the years, enjoying recent AVA Classes taught by Dan Gottsegen and Joan Hoffman.